

Training course

Peer observation and teacher's professionalism

Contents:

- Teacher's professionalism and competences
- Teacher's training for social and cognitive justice
- The clinic model for class observation
- Purposes and procedures for peer observation among teachers

Objectives:

- to identify some social and school related factors associated with a successful learning process;
- to understand the influence of the conception of teachers' professionalism, competences and expectations on teachers' practices and students' learning;
- to use peer observation as a privileged strategy of analysis/reflection on the teaching-learning process;
- to motivate for peer observation among teachers.